Fire Fighter Training Show

Show Description

The Fire Fighter Training Show plays off every child's curiosity to one day become a "Fire Fighter".

The show allows volunteers from the audience - usually kids, but we can use adults - to become our fire fighter trainees.

Audience Participation Show - After being fitted in fire fighter jacket and helmet, the new trainees are introduced to the audience as their next generation of heroes, and the volunteer fire fighters are divided into two teams.

When the alarm tones sound calling Engine One to duty, it's all trainees on deck! Each fire fighter trainee/team gets to complete the basic tasks at our simulated fire scene: laying out fire hose, attaching it to the fire truck and putting on a nozzle. Using a real fire extinguisher to squirt water at simulated flames in our smoke rescue building, the trainees spray in hopes they can knock the flames out of the window, putting out the fire, and then enter the smoke-filled building to make a heroic-style rescue, demonstrating how to crawl low under smoke (we use an odorless, non-toxic, white smoke which dissipates in about 1 to 3 minutes). The dialog between our fire chief, the audience and the new trainees is riddled with humor and education information such as "In Case of Fire, Get Outside and Stay Outside, Only Firefighters Attempt Rescues". The fire chief also introduces important fire safety lessons "Don't Hide, Get Outside" and "Crawl Low, Under Smoke".

What comes off as entertaining and fun today may save a life in the future. Throughout the show, the audience is encouraged to cheer on our new trainees as the shows activities become a friendly competition between our volunteer fire fighters. The winner, or team that wins our competition, is our 1st Place Team, and as a reward, they get to climb Tower One and aim its water canon at whichever part of the audience they feel wasn't cheering them on during the earlier events. The show ends with our fire tower water canon shot (fun paper streamers shoot high into the air over an audience expecting they're about to get soaked at 3,000 gallons per minute).

No one is left out of our show. After Tower One's surprising water canon shot, the audience is invited to stay, and all the kids can practice "crawl low, under smoke" through our smoke-rescue facility, touch and feel real fire fighting equipment, or have a photo taken dressed as a fire fighter - looking just like the fire fighters in the show. All post-show activities are free, except for photo of kids dressed as a fire fighter taken with our camera, kid-sized fire helmets, other fire fighter-related toys, or fire safety information we may offer for sale.

Our extensive set of props and stage effects include: professional costumes, up-beat music, alarm sound effects, flashing lights, smoke rescue building, fire extinguishers, fire hose and nozzles, fire hydrant, fire hose fountain, fire tower, streamer launcher and the kids-sized fire truck. All kid-size and kid-friendly equipment that produces BIG-SIZE FUN!

Each show lasts approximately 20 to 30 minutes and involves four audience members, usually kids. Post-show, we operate the smoke-rescue facility, letting all the kids practice "crawl low, under smoke" and offer good firehouse hospitality for an additional 5 to 15 minutes.

We have uniforms for ages two through adult so anyone could become our next fire fighter trainee.

Event Must Provide Items Below

Space Required (Show Area Only): 40-Foot frontage x 40-Foot deep. Flat, firm surface (grass, asphalt, concrete).

Additional Space Required (Audience Seating):

Bleacher seating is best, or benches, chairs, etc. to accommodate seating for at least 50.

Electric: One 30, 40 or 50-amp, 220-volt circuit OR two 30-amp, 110-volt circuits/breakers.

Water: Nearby garden hose connection (200 feet) for filling fire extinguishers and fire hose fountain.

Camping/Trailer/Space: The cargo trailer is part of the smoke-rescue facility structure in which our fire truck and equipment are stored after hours. Our camper is a pickup truck, slide-in camper. Nearby parking of the camper is very helpful. Free camping space with water and 30-amp electric, or one hotel room, is required along with all parking permits and gate admission passes.
